Grants plan threat 'nonsense' claim

A suggestion by the Premier, Mr. Hamer, that direct Federal Government grants to local Government constituted a "centralisation threat" was described yesterday as "nonsense."

Western Regional Commission chairman, Cr. Don Myers, was commenting on a report Mr. Hamer had made the "threat" statement.

"I am at a loss to understand how the giving of money for a community purpose can be a threat," Cr. Myers said.

The regional commission was anxious to co-operate with the Hamer Government in developing the western suburbs with the help of Federal finance.

It had requested a meeting with Mr. Hamer and the Local Government Minister, Mr. Hunt and Mr. Hamer had agreed to this, though no firm date had been set.

Cr. Myers said the Deputy Premier, Mr. Thompson, had said the plan to make direct federal grants to local government could make "dangerous inroads" into the powers of the States.

Mr. Hunt had said there were many frightening and unnecessary aspects of the grants proposal.

He had warned determination of where money would go could become a political issue instead of one based on need.

"I wonder at the motivations of Mr. Thompson and Mr. Hunt," Cr. Myers said.

"If we were — as a State — getting less money I would agree.

"But, let's face it, we are getting more money".

Cr. Myers said he could not understand how getting more money for public purposes could be dangerous.

The Federal grants would be made only on the basis of need and claims would have to be substantiated.

The estimated need for the whole western area was $748 million and he understood the Federal Government would commission an outside, professional organisation to carry out a feasibility study of the claims.

Teachers out over sackings

A number of secondary teachers in Altona will be on strike this Friday, in support of Miss Helen Garner, the teacher who was sacked from Fitzroy High School last year for using four letter words in class.

In a statement to the Star this week, members of the VSTA branch of Altona North High School said they were joining the State-wide stoppage by secondary teachers.

Miss Garner was sacked on December 14, last year, after she had admitted using four letter words during a sex discussion with her first form class.

In their signed statement to the Star, president of the Altona North High VSTA branch, Miss Neva Hill and secretary, Miss Jill Hocking said the daily Press had given little emphasis to the fact that some teachers object to the manner in which Miss Garner was dismissed.

According to the striking teachers, Miss Garner, a temporary teacher did not have the protection of an independent inquiry that was available to full-time teachers.

The teachers claim Miss Garner was informed by her principal on December 13, that the Director of Secondary Education, Mr. Schruhm, wished to interview her the next day.

And that she then contacted the VSTA who tried to ascertain from Mr. Schruhm, the nature of the interview.

They further claim Mr. Schruhm said the interview would be a preliminary investigation. And that an association official who accompanied Miss Garner was not allowed to attend the interview.

$4 MILLION SHOPS PLAN FOR ALTONA

A $4 million shopping complex to serve North Altona, Spotswood, Werribee and Laverton residents has been planned on the site of the former Humes Ltd. quarry, North Altona.

The site is on the western side of Millers Road between Deuron and Duosa Roads.

It will serve the needs of Laverton and Werribee as it is close to the Lower Yarra Freeway and the Geelong Highway.

The developer, Lewis Construction Co. Pty. Ltd., has lodged an application with the Board of Works and Altona Council to allow the construction of the shopping centre.

A spokesman for the company said this week subject to approval of the development, the area would be transformed into a modern community amenity.

Mr. Barrie Funnell, a partner of Jones Lang Wootton, the managing agents for the project said at present the quarry hole is an eyesore and could become a local health hazard.

"Much of the area is covered in accumulated rubbish and infested by vermin," he said.

Local residents have told us they are very worried about rats spreading diseases and children injuring themselves while playing on the site," he said.

Mr. Funnell said the proposed centre would involve cleaning up the site, covering the hole and using it as a basement car-park and landscaping the entire area with native trees and shrubs.

Total retail area of the development would be 125,000 square feet.

This would include a Safeway Supermarket, a Target discount store, two other stores and several smaller shops.

Parking for several hundred cars would also be provided. Parking would also be available for customers of the existing row of shops in Millers Road, to the north of Duosa Road.

Mr. Funnell said the discount store and supermarket were designed to supplement existing shopping facilities in the area.

"Parts of Altona are well-served by existing retail facilities such as the centre based around Pier Street," he said.

"North Altona, however, does not have sufficient shopping facilities for residents in the immediate area and it is for these people that the new project is planned."

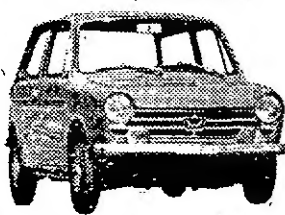

Mr. Funnell said the eastern entrance of the development is adjacent to a proposed bus stop and taxi stand, and car entry would be provided by a service road off Millers Road.

"Access to the area would mainly be from Millers Road and therefore there would be no significant increase in traffic along residential streets to the west of the site."

Providing planning approvals were received in time, the development would be completed by March, 1975, Mr. Funnell added.

Divorce reforms concern lawyers

Recent amendments to divorce rules should be revoked until satisfactory new rules are formulated, say members of the Western Suburbs Law Association.

Members are of the opinion that the amendments to divorce rules do not satisfactorily effect Altona, Werribee and Sunbury changes to the previous procedure.

The association does, however, support the concept of simplification of divorce procedure and appropriate reduction of costs provided costs still bear a true relationship to Matrimonial Causes Act work done.

The Western Suburbs Law Association cominconsistencies including a conflict between the divorce law and the divorce rules.

"The law and the grounds for divorce have not changed, but it seems to me that the new rules have been introduced in anticipation of a change in the law. The new rules do not work in with present divorce laws," said Mr. Cannon.

He said that costs were another problem as the maximums of $150 for undefended cases and $500 for defended cases prescribed in the rules would not be enough.

"It would be a good idea if the rules allowed an undefended case to be prepared for $150 but as the new rules stand, this is not possible," said Mr. Cannon.

Mr. Cannon considered that the Government had merely set the maximums arbitrarily without any real regard for the work involved.

"For instance," he said, "an independent costs consultant had indicated the barest minimum that a solicitor could act for in an undefended divorce was $224."

The figure of $224 was calculated on the basis that a number of matters normally attended to by a solicitor would be done by the client and not the solicitor.

The lawyers felt that if the Government expects them to perform all the services relating to an undefended divorce for $150, then it ignores economic reality.

Matrimonial matters involve important matters of status and serious decisions concerning welfare of children, maintenance and property determinations. They have always been regarded as calling for consideration by Judges of Supreme Court standing.

Mr. Cannon said if Senator Murphy succeeds in reducing their status to something analogous to the field of debt collection, where mass production methods alone make it economic, he should certainly consider the effect on the social fabric of society.

Mr. Cannon said that another thing which would especially affect people in the western suburbs was that no longer could one party in an undefended divorce be ordered to pay costs to another party.

Where previously an innocent wife obtaining a divorce could obtain an order for costs against her husband or an innocent husband could obtain such an order against a man with whom his wife had committed adultery, under the new rules this was no longer possible, he added.

"Now a successful party carries the full burden of his costs, whereas previously he recovered a substantial portion of them from the unsuccessful party."

"People in the western suburbs cannot afford and should not be expected to carry the costs of ending a marriage which has broken down through no fault of their own," Mr. Cannon said.

Altona band is young, enthusiastic

The majority of members in the Altona Municipal Band are less than 20 years old, but they are thoroughly professional.

The musicians, who are honorary, take part in local RSL marches, the yearly Carols by Candlelight, the City Anzac March and contests.

Apart from their love of music and fellowship, they share a distinguished record.

The band has won the C Grade Australian Championship for marching in Sydney and the C Grade division in Launceston in recent years.

The band practices two hours a week, but each member puts in about five hours a week private practice.

The secretary of the club, Mr. Noel Millar, played with his first band, the Hopetown Band, Bendigo, when only 16.

Anyone who would like to join the Altona Municipal Band could ring him on 309 1545.

Many of the club's members are from the Hyde Street band, others from Altona North High School and Altona Technical School.

Mr. Millar, who plays the tenor horn, says it's possible to master the rudiments of an instrument within two years.

Want to act?

You too may have talent and not know it.

Altona Drama Group plans to stage a play and will be holding meetings every Monday at 8 p.m. in the Homestead, Queen Street, opposite the library.

A play reading will be held this Monday night. Interested people could contact Mrs. Freebody, phone 398 1594 for details.

HELLO GIRLS,
LET'S BE FRANK!

Loving Care

Isn't it a shock to see those first grey hairs coming through? Don't panic. This doesn't mean a start on messy dyes or tints to cover up. Keep up a 'natural you look'. Think of Clairol and their Loving Care, Hair Color Lotion.

Now there is a chart for you to compare with and obtain the shade the same as your hair, so as only your grey hairs change.

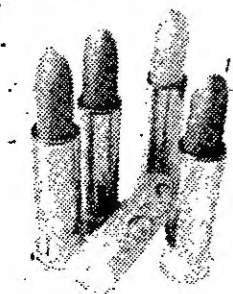

You have no mixing to do, it is a matter of lathering on straight from the bottle. You will find Loving Care leaves your hair soft and shiny. No activator or peroxide to mix in, no dry ends because of color abuse.

Loving Care lasts and lasts — but it isn't a tint, better than a rinse. It is easy to choose, easy to use. Of course, if you have attractive silver, or grey hair all over, don't think brown or black. Nature gave you this pretty color to compliment your skin toning — Clairol realising this have for you nine shades through grey — called it Silk and Silver.

Clairol Silk and Silver shampoos out any yellowness, blends away any unwanted salt and pepper areas, giving you the all-over color cleanliness you desire. Once again — no mixing — just shampoo on.

Cyclax have a new Color Moist Lipstick to show you. Completely new in color and formula.

All these are vitamin enriched with special attention to Vitamin E and B5 which guard against dryness and keep the most sensitive lips soft and moist. (Tastes good too).

Cyclax took into account the new elegant Autumn/Winter fashion colors we will be wearing and have given us lipsticks to blend with these. You will see grey, camel, cream, beige, as well as the return to gentle pastel, Twin Sets and pearls, and bobbed haircuts.

Now — Color Moist Cyclax Lipsticks and nail enamels.

Bye.

Shakespeare at Her Majesty's

Two - Gentlemen of Verona, adapted from the Shakespeare comedy, will open at Her Majesty's Theatre on Saturday, March 31.

The Broadway production of Two Gentlemen from Verona opened in 1971 and its popularity is such that it is still running. The original New York award winning costumes and set designs will be used in the Australian production. Three black American performers have been engaged for Australia — Gilbert Price, Gail Boggs and Judd James. They will play opposite Australian stars John Waters, Rona McLeod and Noel Mitchell. Well-known stage personalities Denise Drysdale, Michael Caton, George Spartels, Lester Morris, John Diedrich and Eleanor Chapman will take important principal roles.

● The Proclaimers will perform at Williamstown Town Hall next Saturday, March 31, at 8 p.m. Australia's leading rock-gospel group will be supported by talented folk singer, Franciscus Henry. Proceeds benefit Chis-Lon Spastic Centre, Footscray.

Own your own greyhound

The Victorian Greyhound Weekly is offering its readers one of the biggest greyhound give-aways ever organised in Victoria.

This Thursday the Greyhound Weekly will offer some lucky reader, free, a greyhound trailer valued at $700, and a greyhound puppy valued at $500.

The greyhound trailer is an exclusive new line made by the Melbourne firm Camperman and the first will come off the production line about the time the Greyhound Weekly competition ends.

The trailer is built on the latest lines, with an aluminium weather-proof roof, marine bondwood sides, proofed and triple-painted.

The unit is well ventilated and rubber mats are supplied for the four compartments, two of which are large enough to hold two dogs in each — making it a six-dog trailer if necessary.

The Camperman trailer is fully equipped with SEC regulation riding and indicator lights to comply with standards in all States.

The pup, from Derek Winter's Winning Circle Kennels, is a dog by Melbourne Cup winner Milmsimbi out of top-producing bitch, Shady's Sister.

With this proven breeding line and with an average chance, this pup has every possibility of being a city winner.

Milmsimbi was a top-class sprinter in NSW and Victoria and his breeding by Black Top out of top-producing bitch, Tamerine, is among the best in Australia.

Shady's Sister, has produced city winners Mr. Lanza, My Turn, Little Babe, Shadwell Lady and many others.

The mighty Rocket Jet has a big influence on our pup as his blood is traced through the dam side of Milmsimbi and through the male side of Shady's Sister.

Coupled with the Top Linen and Byamee blood to give added class, stability and strength, this pup also has potential as a future stud dog.

And the contest is so easy to enter.

An entry form will be published in this Thursday's issue of the Greyhound Weekly and each of the following two Thursdays.

All you have to do is estimate the weight of the Camperman trailer with the greyhound pup in it, then answer the question on the Greyhound Weekly entry form.

There is no restriction on the number of entries each person sends in for the contest, but each must be in a separate envelope.

The Victorian Greyhound Weekly can be bought at any newsagents, or you can make arrangements to have it home delivered each Thursday morning.

Informal organ meet

Informality was the keynote to the latest Western Suburbs Organ Club meeting.

Impromptu duets between Len Barnard, Bill Smith and Ron McGrath and performances by Graham Woods and newcomer, Diane Smallwood enchanted the large gathering.

Len Barnard, a well-known jazz pianist and drummer, gave a short, descriptive lecture on chord construction and illustrated with a batch of his own arrangements of simple melodies.

GMH GO 4-DOOR

General Motors Holdens will release a luxury four door version of its top selling Monaro GTS coupe on March 29. The car, an addition to the already large HQ Holden range, will be known as the Monaro GTS 4-door.

It represents the company's first entry into the performance 4-door market and has been designed as a driver's car.

GMH Director of Sales, Mr. J. G. Bagshaw, announcing the new model, said it was a natural extension of the HQ Monaro range which had achieved wide public acceptance since its introduction in 1971.

The new model will have the same mechanicals as the GTS coupe, with the GMH Australian designed and manufactured 253 cubic inch V8 engine, which develops 185 brake horsepower as standard.

Two optional V8 engines will be offered — the 308 and 350 developing 240 and 275 bhp respectively.

Toranas ready

After a defeat in the first meeting of the year, the Holden dealer team is mounting a special attack at Calder's rallycross on Sunday, April 1.

In addition to Phillip Brock in the two-year-old rallycross Torana, a second car has been entered by HDT boss Harry Firth. This car will be a five litre V8 Torana and will be driven by Phil's brother, Peter.

Harry is not saying much about the car but indicates that it could be one of the stillborn V8 production cars that escaped the super-car controversy in 1972.

Practice will start at 9.30 a.m. followed by racing at 11.30 a.m.

Message from Altona's mayor

Perhaps one of the many interesting ways of spending a Saturday afternoon is a drive around the City of Altona, so let's accompany Altona's Mayor, Cr. Harry Weaver, on such a trip, if not in person, then at least in spirit.

We will depart at 1.30 p.m. from the Council Chambers (where your council meets every second Tuesday — and to which all are welcome) and visit the extensive sporting complex named Grant Reserve, which caters for sportsmen and women in the fields of Australian Rules football, cricket, hockey, little athletics, tennis, bowls and, on one of its extremities, stands the Altona Youth Centre.

As we drive through the area we witness two cricket matches, all four tennis courts in use, the marching girls hard at practice and one or two footballers getting in a little early training.

On approaching Lake Cherry we are swamped with activity — two joggers, large numbers of children on horses and mini bikes, a pair of gents practicing their eight-iron shots, and a very proud owner walking a pair of very fine dogs.

On the lake itself, one lad is paddling his one-man raft and another making very good time in his bright yellow kayak, and over on the far bank, half a dozen boys are doing their best to land a couple of fish from the well-stocked water.

We now return southward down Pier Street, passing Kiema Press, the hardware stores, TV Centre, over the railway line and past the caterers, chemists, butchers, milk bars, banks, restaurants — you name it and they are all there — and recall that in this area of Altona you can satisfy your hunger with a variety that ranges from ice cream through to fish and chips, Chinese and Hungarian meals.

You can window shop for the latest fashions, soft furnishings and the current real estate prices, or just sit down and rest in the well-shaded Logan Reserve.

At the Esplanade all are immediately aware of the presence of the Altona Surf Life Saving Club (which boasts a membership of 85), locals strolling along the pier to witness riders on the beach and mini bike enthusiasts roaring their machines through the mud and the stunted ti-tree.

We now return to the south end of Millers Road and proceed north, past a soccer match on Kim Reserve, and, to the left, some children trying to catch some of the small fry that are being washed over the spillway from Cherry Lake, and, although an appeal has been made to return these fish to the lake, it has apparently fallen on deaf ears.

On the right, the very modern Bayside Village Estate provides varied ideas and styles for the intending home builder and is worth a slow drive through.

Back on to Millers Road and to the Kororoit Creek Bridge, where once again, those celebrated pair of black swans are resting. They do so every year and their progress is watched by many people. Past the PRA tennis courts, where a social match is in progress and, over to the left, the activity on the Altona Junior Motor Cycle Track is most evident. This is the ideal place for organised mini and trail bikes and new comers are most welcome.

On over the Melbourne-Geelong railway line and it is a pleasure to see a definite shape taking place in the overpass and loop roads and we trust that this will be in use by August 1973 as scheduled.

On the left a game of cricket on Carbon Black Aust. oval, which they so readily give over to public use. Another cricket match on the Altona North High's ground, and yet another on the Langshaw Reserve (the home side are noted contenders for this year's premiership). All the members of both the cricket and football clubs are full of praise for the planned extension to their pavilion and general facilities as stated by the City Council.

On the opposite side of the reserve there appears to be some activity at the Altona North Youth Club.

Back along Millers Road to the proposed hospital site where Brooklyn and Altona North Football Club appear to be holding a practice match and a general working bee. This club is well known for its dedication to youth training.

West along Blackshaws Road past St. Paul's and it is most gratifying to see the Father mowing the nature strip — and a sure sign of every growing community spirit; yet another game of cricket in progress on that oval.

Down on our right we pass a very large three storey home under construction. This must surely be the biggest house in the city.

Around to Bond Reserve where the Lacrosse team is hard at practice, and then on to what was once the municipal tip — the Crofts Reserve, and what a transformation this has been from a sunken, swampy desolate eyesore, it will soon become the Grant Reserve for the people of the north. The trees appear to be growing rapidly, and the sports grounds are really taking shape.

At Grieve Parade we turn left at the two quarry holes (which no doubt will become recreational and parklands in the future) and on down past the Memorial Park with its beautiful settings and unique landscapes and some time can be spent just walking quietly through this well-kept area.

Past the Drive-In Theatre with its natural setting and very modern kitchen and if we look off to the paddocks on the left, and almost hidden in a clump of gums, is a heap of bluestone pitchers — the remains of the original Grieve farm house, and we must all hope that some of this stone is incorporated in the proposed AMI Toyota Buildings.

Down to Kororoit, over the road duplication being carried out by Altona Council, then into Maidstone Street. We pass a horse riding school, and a game of women's basketball is in progress on the courts of Mt. St. Joseph's school. It is pleasing to see youth taking advantage of the good weather and enjoying a healthy pastime.

Turning right at Queen Street we see on the left the Adventure Playground in Apex Park (This also used to be a big swampy hole in the ground). On the right the Koorringal Golf Course is looking really green and well attended despite the recent water shortages.

Further on to the left the present tip site and on the beach beyond a number of people are taking a leisurely stroll toward the old Magazine Pier where quite a number of fishing poles are evident.

If we reflect for a moment and think ahead a couple of years one can envisage in the not too distant future this tip area and its surrounds will become even more recreational and treed parklands for all to use, and it is not too hard to see that Altona is well on the way to having more parklands and open spaces for recreation than any other Metropolitan area. And a large percentage of it has been reclaimed.

Now on to our most western boundary — Altona Meadows, the cities' most recent satellite and still only 10 miles from the GPO. This area was first subdivided in 1888 but only in very recent years has it sprung to life, with Council making roads, providing drainage, investigating shopping areas and reserving space for recreation and education and with young families, building the homes of their choice, this is sure to be the go-ahead section of the city for the next few years.

A point of interest noted by Cr. Weaver during his drive was the well kept gardens and nature strips throughout Altona and they are a credit to all, and a most notable contribution by industry was the magnificent floral display in the grounds of Carbon Black Aust. The continued use of reserves, parks and gardens by the youth of the city certainly backs up the thought that Altona is a good place to live.

EXPERIMENTAL research to determine whether controlled logging can be permitted in the water supply catchments is being undertaken by the Board, at Coranderk near Healesville.

Studies are being carried out on three areas, one of which has been cleared, burnt and replanted while a second has been cleared and will receive no other treatment. The third is being left untouched.

The behavior of the three areas will be compared to determine the effect of the treatments on catchment yield and water quality and what level of logging, if any, could be permitted in the catchments.

A report on the first stage of the experiments has been completed, and is now available, at a cost of $15, on application to the Secretary, Board of Works, 425 Collins Street, Melbourne. Summaries of the report are available free.

THE prolonged spell of hot weather before the recent rains caused an upsurge in breaks in Melbourne's water mains.

During the summer period, a total of 3,100 breaks, mostly caused by ground movement, was reported. In January alone, there were 1,160 breaks, compared to 319 in January of last year.

WITH the co-operation of the Board, the CSIRO has started research of new methods of sewage treatment with the objective of determining their effectiveness in connection with proposals for the re-use of water for industrial or commercial purposes.

A $55,000 pilot plant to test the new methods has been erected at the Board's Lower Plenty treatment plant where it will process 2,000 gallons of effluent an hour.

The design of the plant is similar to that of a South African plant which produces water of sufficient purity to mix with the normal water supply obtained from the city's storages.

CSIRO scientists are now testing various techniques to reduce some of the expensive stages of the South African method so that the re-use of water may become a viable proposition for Australian conditions.

EXCAVATION of a 267 ft. long tunnel in the ocean bed at Cape Schanck has been completed by Board employees.

Divers are now laying a railway line in the excavation to enable a pipeline to be hauled into position as the last section of the outfall from the purification plant for the South-eastern Sewerage System.

From Rotary with love

A new television set was presented to Altona Elderly Citizens' Club last Thursday by Mr. Alex Butler, president of the Altona Club.

Another Rotary project for the Altona district is the installation of alarm systems in the homes of elderly people and invalids, who are living on their own.

One of the problems facing these people is the fear that they cannot go out and ask for help if they suddenly need it.

To help them feel more comfortable and safe, the Rotary Club plans to install alarm systems, which can be turned on with a switch over a person's bed.

It triggers off a powerful bell, which rings in the front of the house, while a red light also goes on at the same time.

If a person does not feel well, he or she can switch on the alarm. The neighbors can hear the alarm, see the red light and are able to give assistance straight away.

District doctors will be asked to notify Rotary if they know somebody who may benefit from having an alarm system.

Interested people are asked to contact Mr. L. Noordenne, who is director of the community service committee in Altona Rotary.

Mr. Noordenne lives at 67 Millers Road, next to the Civic Parade corner. His phone number is 398 2929. The planting of trees, which was started by Altona Rotary Club last year along the Kororoit Creek will be continued this year.

Dow flies the flag of safety

Dow Chemical (Australia) Limited production site at Altona reached their record safety target of 500,000 man-hours worked without a lost time injury, on December 5, 1972.

This outstanding achievement was made by a celebratory luncheon, attended by all employees on the site.

Cr. Eise, of the National Safety Council was also present and awarded a certificate and pennant to the Altona employees in recognition of their safety record.

Safety is constantly stressed at Altona. Regular training sessions are held for all employees and the emphasis is on all-round safety — on the road, at home, and at work.

Mr. Peter Rudland, Australian manufacturing manager, sees the whole safety picture as line management responsibility.

"We have a good safety record and we're proud of it, but we have only achieved this by constant team effort."

"We don't believe a person should stop thinking safety when he leaves the plant. We should all think safety both on and off the job."

To maintain their safety performance personnel attend training programmes conducted by the National Safety Council and films covering all areas of safety are shown regularly.

Periodic plant inspections are made by management to ensure that safe working practices are followed.

Safety awareness is promoted by prominently displayed posters, lectures, and personal contact with each person in the various sections of the plant.

To increase this safety awareness Dow is presently launching a world-wide programme to remind its employees universally that "Life is Fragile — Handle With Care," a slogan that is appearing at Altona on hard hats, lapel badges and safety bulletins.

At the luncheon, Mr. Rudland thanked the National Safety Council for the assistance they have given in ensuring that Dow employees continue to work and live safely, and congratulated the staff on reaching their 500,000 hour record.

"It has been a joint effort which required every employee to practice individual accountability for safety, and we look forward to a continued safety performance which will reflect the concern we all feel for each other's well-being," he said.

The flag is a sign of a safety campaign that really works. Pensioners and the ambulance

A low ambulance benefits subscription fee for pensioners who are not entitled to free ambulance transport was announced last week by the president of the Victorian Civil Ambulance Service, Cr. Leslie T. Fox.

Cr. Fox said that under the liberalised means test more people were eligible for the pension but were not entitled to receive free medical benefits which also excluded them from receiving free ambulance transport under Hospital and Charities Commission regulations.

To help these people, VCAS has introduced a $4 annual subscription to cover such pensioners.

Only pensioners living in the metropolitan area are eligible to join the scheme.

The subscription, $2 less than is paid by non-pensioners, will pay all the approved ambulance costs of a single pensioner or a married pensioner and his wife no matter how far they travel or how often they need to use the ambulance.

If they have not been given a Commonwealth medical benefits entitlement card then they are liable to pay their own ambulance fees.

Pensioners should quote pension number and send their $4 subscription to the manager, Subscriber Relations, Victorian Civil Ambulance Service, 64 La Trobe Street, Melbourne, Victoria, 3000.

Spastic social

Williamstown unimpressive

Practice makes perfect . . . Williamstown hopes.

The 'Gulls' defeated Waverley in a trial game last Sunday — by five points. Waverley finished rock-bottom last season, and, subsequently, have been relegated to second division — Williamstown finished third.

Sunday's victory was not impressive. Waverley actually led during the last term and Williamstown were

VIKINGS PRACTICE

Altona Football Club, last year's WSFL A Division champions, will tackle runners-up, North Footscray Imperials, at Grant Reserve on Sunday, April 1, at 2.30 p.m.

The match will be preceded by a reserves game at 12.30 p.m.

LUCKY to hit the front. Perhaps another proverb — every cloud has a silver lining — was the game's only reward.

Scores: Williamstown 17.23 (125) d. Waverley 17.18 (120).

Goals: Boxall, Les Stillman, Mulligan 3, Percy, Collins, Anstey 2, Hemley.

Best: Thompson, Lawerson, Percy, Hannebery, Fanning, Joniec.

Captain-coach Barry Gill did not play. He was not injured, but decided he could assess individual players' performances better from the bench.

SECONDS:

Scores: Williamstown 7.22 (64) d. Waverley 6.4 (40).

Best: McTaggart, Anstey, Richards, McGhie, Williams, Richards.

Williamstown will battle Eltham at the sea-side oval, next Sunday, April 1, at 2.30 p.m. The match will be preceded by a curtain-raiser.

Altona's A, C teams in lead

Altona Cricket Club A and C grade teams have established first innings leads following the second day's play in their respective grand finals.

Here are the details:

A GRADE:

Having previously established a 50-run lead with three wickets still in hand, Altona were anxious to get as many runs as possible before giving Werribee a second chance with the bat.

With the total at 159 — a lead of 73 — Altona were all out.

Geoff Stephenson remained not out.

Werribee's second innings got away sensationally when Colin Shaw snared four early wickets, and put intense pressure on the opposition.

At six for 54, it looked to be "how far Altona" — However, the Werribee tail was to wag to such an extent that the last four wickets were able to add 140 runs.

This included a sensational 27 from one over delivered by Shaw.

Four gold for locals

Six children from the Altona Little Athletics Centre competed successfully in the Victorian championships at Olympic Park last Sunday.

Their results included four gold medals and one silver medal. Best results were won by:

Requiring 123 for victory Altona were content to bat out the remaining 45 minutes to stumps.

But in doing so lost both Denis and Brian Garde — with the score at two for 25 Altona still require 98 runs for Victory.

C GRADE:

Resuming at three for 19 in reply to Altona's 160, Windsor never recovered and were dismissed for 74.

Allan Jobson with four for 15 topped the bowling and took his personal wicket tally for the season to 52.

He received strong support from Gordon Wilson, three for 29 and John Dier, two for 28.

With a lead of 86 Altona were looking for a good performance with the bat in the second innings.

However, with the exception of Bill Bibby, 52 and Frank Thomas, 22, the batting was disappointing and let Windsor back into the game.

At stumps, Altona were 9 for 117 and have a lead of 203.

LISTON IS OUT OF TOP COMPETITION

Liston Esplanade Tennis Club will not field teams in this year's LTAV winter pennant competition because the clubrooms are deemed unsatisfactory.

It is the first season since World-War II that the club will not be represented in any grade of the State's top inter-club competition.

The club is now awaiting a decision by the Minister of Lands as to whether it can proceed with its improvement programme.

An all day tournament will be held on Sunday, April 8 and the club has issued an invitation to the Williamstown Tennis Club for its members to join in the day's tennis.

A pleasant outing to Emerald was enjoyed by 30 members recently when the club was the guest of the Emerald Country Club. Those attending played tennis, golf, bowls and generally were well entertained by the Emerald executive. The beautiful bush walks were a feature of the area.

A large party night was held at Ticki and John's

Music Hall where the locals were given a rousing welcome and thoroughly enjoyed the unique evening.

A working bee was held last week to curb the growth of weeds in and around the court area and the surrounds of the club now look in first class order.

Club coach, Ron Bury, has resumed lessons following deferment during the water restrictions and parents of members as well as non-members are advised that vacancies exist for tennis tuition. Mr. Bury is in attendance every Saturday morning from 8 a.m.-11 a.m.

Club vice-president, Frank Homewood and his hard-working committee member wife, Marilyn, recently celebrated the birth of a son, Bradley. The occasion was appropriately marked by club members.
